Dear Friends of MUW,

In the past few weeks, we have been recognizing and thanking our annual campaign volunteers. These amazing people help us run a smooth and productive campaign and we are grateful for their support. This week, I'd like to give a big shout out to our volunteers who help us in other, equally important ways—on board committees and as investment team members.

Joanne Rennie Angell began volunteering with MUW two years ago when she returned to her native New Hampshire from the west coast. A friend told Joanne that volunteering for the United Way could help her learn a lot about the community. Joanne jumped in with both feet and has helped MUW in a variety of ways—lending her skills as a writer and marketing professional on the marketing and communications committee; as a meeting facilitator; and as a member of the investment team, a group of community members who review proposals and make funding decisions for new initiatives and collaboratives.

"I always thought at some point I would give back. When I came (back to New Hampshire), I thought this was the time to do it."

Joanne gets as much out of her volunteer work as she gives, saying, "I specialize in management, leadership, and business skills I can share with other nonprofits that might not have budgets to hire independent consultants. I'm eager to take some of what I learned all those years ago and make it available."

To read more about Joanne's incredible contribution to MUW, read this article that was published in The Sentinel in September. Joanne is truly a local hero!

Interested in making a difference in our community by volunteering? MUW is always looking for volunteers to help out in our office and to help our agencies with finance, marketing, development, grant writing, and IT. For more information, visit muw.org or call Kate Cote at 603-352-4209, ex. 28.

Sincerely,

Liz LaRose, President
