A big “thank you” to Hamshaw Lumber for being a pacesetter and first completed workplace campaign of 2021! Their campaign total of $10,438 helps MUW get a jump-start on our new annual campaign.

Dear Friends of MUW,

One of the great aspects of the work we do is getting to see first-hand how the community comes together during our annual campaign. So many of our corporate partners see their workplace campaigns as a team building exercise that bring excitement and knowledge about the wider needs of the community to their workplaces. C&S Wholesale is a prime example of how workplace campaigns can bring a large company together for a cause.

Alana Fiero, Communications and Community Relations Specialist at C&S, is in charge of running C&S’s campaign this year and she is excited about the possibilities:

“This year will be my first time running a United Way campaign. I’m very grateful for the support of both our national and local United Way representatives. I’ve learned that creating a space for people to share their thoughts, whether it be a United Way representative or C&S employee, gives us all a greater sense of ownership. That collaborative spirit will enable us to keep people engaged for the duration of the campaign.”

Alana is committed to running the best possible campaign this year because she sees the benefit of MUW’s work:

“Monadnock United Way supports several local and regional nonprofit organizations that make issues from 2021!

this region a better place to live and work. One that stands out in my mind is 2-1-1, a hotline funded by New Hampshire United Ways [including MUW] to help people find essential community services near them. I have no doubt that many of our employees benefit directly from these free or low-cost services, and we are proud to support."

C&S is one of MUW's largest Pacesetter campaigns. Pacesetters set the standard for leadership and community support by locking in their campaign donations during the months leading up to our September kickoff. The success and excitement generated by the activities of our Pacesetters helps to inspire other organizations to follow their lead when running their own campaigns. For more information about being a Pacesetter, please contact Kate Cote at 603-352-4278, ext. 28 or kate@muw.org

We are grateful to C&S and all of our workplace campaigns for their commitment to MUW and our community!

Sincerely,

Liz LaRose, President
