

Monadnock Housing Conversations

Strategies for Community Engagement

 Thursday, October 15

 2:00 PM - 4:00 PM with optional social hour

 Peterborough Town Library

2 Concord Street, Peterborough, NH

GUEST PRESENTERS:

Danica Miller Director of Planning & Building for the Town of Peterborough, where she leads community planning, Master Plan implementation, and land-use policy

Sarah Bollinger Senior Planner at Southwest Region Planning Commission, where she assists municipalities with hazard mitigation, master plan updates, technical assistance, and grant administration

Danica and Sarah will share experiences and reflections on the role of community engagement in zoning reform and set the stage for small group conversations.

The inaugural Monadnock Housing Conversations will highlight engagement strategies for community-specific zoning reform to co-create locally-driven solutions to meet the region's evolving housing needs.

Housing is a topic that touches every community in the Monadnock Region. From workforce housing and affordability to community character and growth management, local planners and land use boards play a critical role in shaping housing opportunities.

At the ongoing Monadnock Housing Conversations series, we'll gather to:

- Share insights about our experiences, challenges, and successes
- Explore strategies that advance community-driven solutions
- Identify and celebrate opportunities to connect, collaborate and learn from each other

Whether your community is actively pursuing housing initiatives or beginning to explore potential solutions, your perspective will help enrich this important regional dialogue.
